About Your Fire Permit

Burning in Grand Valley is regulated by By-law 2021-31 and provincial legislation. There are rules in place regarding the size of fires, the types of materials that can be burned, the locations and times of day that burning can take place. There are penalties for not following the rules, so we require those wanting to burn to obtain a permit and review the rules to be sure there is no confusion.

The following information provides a summary of burning requirements in Grand Valley. Before your burn, please review the entire by-law available at www.townofgrandvalley.ca or from the Town office.

Every time you want to burn, regardless of the type of fire:

- ✓ Always have an adult stay with the fire to supervise
- ✓ Always have water or fire extinguishers ready to use to put out the fire
- ✓ Always check to see if a burning ban is in effect before lighting your fire
- ✓ Always be respectful of your neighbours
- ✓ Always burn safely!

Every time you are having a Recreational Fire:

- ✓ Always keep it smaller than 1 metre in diameter
- ✓ Always keep it at least 3 metres away from any structures, trees, overhead wires or obstructions of any kind
- ✓ Always follow all other rules listed in the By-law

Every time you are burning an Open-Air Fire (rural properties only):

- ✓ Always keep it smaller than 3 metres in diameter
- ✓ Always burn at least 7 metres away from long grass, hedges, structures or obstructions of any kind
- ✓ Always follow all other rules listed in the By-law

If the type of fire that you want to light is not covered under the Town's Burning By-law:

- ✓ Always contact the Grand Valley and District Fire Chief at jforeman@gvdfd.com in advance to discuss your plans, have an inspection and obtain a special burning permit. The Town office does not issue these permits – only the Fire Chief
- ✓ Always follow the Fire Chief's instructions for your special burning permit

We want you to stay safe at all times by following the rules set out in the By-law.

Please Note: the new burning by-law will be reviewed within 12 months of its passing and may be changed or cancelled at Council's discretion, in which case permits may be cancelled.

Please refer to the full by-law 2021-31 or call our office at 519-928-5652 with any questions.
